PLAINTIFF'S POSITION

Plaintiff disagrees with Defendants' position that a separate Scheduling Conference should take place after the close of discovery, including because such a belated Scheduling Conference would result in prejudicially delayed trial dates for these cases. Plaintiff's proposal schedule for these cases is fully set forth above.

4

⁴ Plaintiff proposes that the parties meet and confer as to which camera, phone and copier defendants should go to trial first; and if the parties cannot agree, the Court can choose a lead case to be tried first at the Court's claim construction hearing or at such other time as the Court chooses.

DEFENDANTS' POSITION

In light of the number of defendants, the Defendants propose that that the Court hold a scheduling conference at the close of discovery to address the remaining deadlines to file motions (both motions in limine and motions other than those in limine), and to schedule the pre-trial conference and trial dates. As a general proposition, the parties agree that the Court should enter staggered deadlines for these dates at the Court's convenience.

If the case against The Retailers is not stayed in its entirety, then the case against Buy.com, Best Buy, CDW, Target, Micro Electronics and Overstock.com (all of the retailers except B & H Foto and Newegg) should be stayed until just before the close of discovery.

If the case against Buy.com, Best Buy, CDW, Target, Micro Electronics and Overstock.com is not stayed in any respect, then the schedule for Buy.com, Best Buy, CDW, Target, Micro Electronics and Overstock.com should be set in coordination with the discovery and litigation schedule for the camera manufacturers except plaintiff should only be allowed to conduct limited damages discovery.

If the case against Newegg is not stayed in its entirety, the schedule for Newegg should be set in coordination with the discovery and litigation schedule for the camera manufacturers.

Case 8:12-cv-01678-ODW-MRW Document 21-1 Filed 03/18/13 Page 5 of 5 Page ID #:120

If the case against B & H Foto is not stayed in its entirety, then schedule for B & H Foto should be set in coordination with the discovery and litigation schedule for the camera manufacturers except plaintiff should only be allowed to conduct limited damages discovery of B&H Foto .

THIRD-PARTY DEFENDANT ACACIA RESEARCH CORPORATION'S POSITION

Acacia Research Corporation ("ARC") believes that initial disclosures do not need to be made by ARC until seven (7) business days after any ruling by the Court on ARC's Motion to Dismiss. ARC also contends that the majority of the discovery anticipated by the other parties is inapplicable to ARC. It is ARC's position that any discovery of ARC must be narrowly limited to ARC's ownership interest (or, more correctly, lack of ownership interest) in the '415 Patent, and that any discovery of ARC should be stayed pending a ruling on its Motion to Dismiss.
